Business Men in Theatricals.

The Chicago Heraid of May 5th said: It's strange the strides business men have made in the theatrical business since they began investing in those enterprises. No longer is it tooked upon as a hazardous game. A colorie of solid business men of thicago have organised what is known as the United Play company and have bought the western rights to a number of the leading dramatic successes and will present the plays in the let ding cities of the middle west and coast. Some minor towns will be visited to shorten the jumps.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR CATARRH

The mucous membranes of the nose and throat are exposed to the irritating influence of dust, impure air, etc., and for this reason are the places Catarrh usually first manifests itself. But these are simply exciting causes, the inflammation and discharge being really produced by an impure and vitiated condition of the blood. It is well enough to use some local treatment produced by an impure and vitiated condition of the blood. It is well enough to use some local treatment to cleanse these membranes, but any one can readily see that if the inflammatory matter is left in the blood, such treatment cannot possibly knoe any permanent effect. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by purifying the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and irritating germs and at the same time builds up the system by its fine tonic effects. When S. S. S. has purified the blood, the mucous surfaces are all nourished and made healthy. There can be no inflammation of the stembranes then, because the blood is pure, and every tissue receives nourishnent instead of irritating matter. Our book on Catarrh will give proper advice as to what is best to use as a local aid while S. S. S. is purifying the blood. This book is free, also any special advice you may feel you need. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

Roy. Elmer E. Davidson, formerly plaster of the Christian church in this city, who has been a tuglitive two years because of his fake marriage to Laura. The crippled and only daughter of ex-Mayor Hale Clark of this city, had sport with the officials here yesterday. He returned unexpectedly and played the role of guest of honor at an informal reception tendered in the home of James Wilson by members of his former flock, and then disappeared just as sheriff Colbert and his deputice arrived at the Wilson home with a bench warrant charging him with wilful desertion, the punishment for which, in Indiana is a term in state's prison.

The handsome young minister informed his friends here that he had been visiting his parents in Missouri, and was returning to Canada, where he is pastor of a church.

While here two years ago Davidson is alleged to have persuaded Miss Laura Clark to accompany him to St. Louis, where they would be married, and kept the affair secret. He is alieged to have employed a onco-used marriage license, and to have perferited the cerumony himself in the Metropolitan hotel, which led the girl to selleve united them. When the scorts later legalized the Davidson left Washington at night in the midst of prob talk.

The courts later legalized the Davidson-Clark marriage. The Rue-

Bishop Hamilton of Boston Was Personally Acquainted With Mary and Believes in the Lamb.

Mary did have a tittle lamb, its fleere was as white as snow and it really did follow Mary to selloul one day and set all the pupils laughing. All those facts are vouched for by a Methodist bishop, says the Kansas City Staf. He didn't see the lamb, but he knew Mary very well and he has a bit of the wool off her lamb to prove it by. The bishop is Dr. John W. Hamilton of Boston and here's the story, as the bishop told it to a reporter the other morning:

"Is my congregation in Boston back porter the other morning:

"In my congregation in Boston back to the 'Son was Mrs. Columbus Tyter, whose maiden name was Mary Savage, and she was the Mary the lamb followed. She told me about it. Back about the time Andrew Jackson drove Packenham from New Orleans in the last war with England, Mary was a little girl living near Sterling, Mass. She lived on a form upon which sheep were grown. One cold morning she found in the sheep pen a new born lamb that had been deserted by its mother. Mary exapped the lamb in her shawl and took it into the house where the nursed it and cared for it every day. It grew into a frisky little pet.

"One day Mary's brother, Nate, and she always suspected that mischief was his motive, told her she'd better was his motive, told her she'd better take the lamb to school with her over at the little red schoolhouse on the hill. She did. When she got to the schoolhouse the teacher had not yet arrived. Mary wrapped the lamb in her shawl and put it in her desk. And no one except the Rawyer children knew the pet was there until Mury

"Then there was a great clatterin Wheels Under Sleeper in the rough floor as the lamb jumped from the shawl and ran to join its mistress. The other pupils laughed and Mary blushed, just as the poem says they did, and the teacher shut the lamb up in the woodshed until school was dismissed for the afternoon.

"All the boys and girls, of course, talked about the lamb and the story reached John Roulstone, a young theology student who was studying near there. He wrote three verses of poetry about it—the first of the six that now are in the poom—and took them to the little girl over at the schoolhouse. The story spread and the poem was published. Then in 1879, Mrs. Barah Joseph wrote the last three verses, added them to Mr. Roulstone's three and published the six.

the pit with the air crone, the boxes and brasses changed, and the new wheels set in. The first pair were changed in 13 minutes. These were the ensient, for they were the ensient, for they were the ensient, for they were the ensient. A long string of Santa Fe officials atood by and watched the work, commenting from time to time on the speed, as the limited was waiting for the corr. The train was delayed about two hours in its departure. Inspector Hall went with it as far as Bluewater to see that the new Journals ran cool. The feat is looked upon with annual admiration by Sants Fe men. There is a previous record of changing hims poirs or wheels under sluepers in 70 minutes, but this was done in the shope and not in a repair yard.

Here is the poem in full:

Mary Rad a little lamb,
Its fleece was traite as snow,
And everywhere that Mary went
The lamb was sure to go.

It tollowed her to school one day—
That was against the rule,
It made the children laugh and play.
To see a lamb at school.

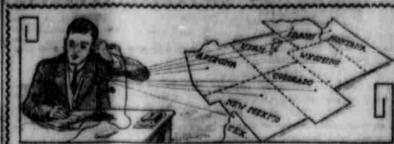

And so the teacher turned it out-But still it lingered near, And waited patiently about Till Mary sid appear.

And then it ran to her and laid Its head upon her arm, As if it said: "I'm not afraid— You'll keep me from all harm."

Gray Haired Dr. Jones Must Remain in San Quentin for Next Year Despite Appeal of His Attorney.

SPECTATORS MOVED WHEN JUDGE SPEAKS

Los Angeles, Cal. Nov. 29.—He-fore an audience in which there was not a dry eye, one of the most dra-matic scenes ever witnessed in a Los Angeles court room was enacted yes-terday before Judge McCormick.

mitted on his behalf were useless. He tottered, then fell forward on the table beside his lawyer, crying like a child. In this position he heard the words which condemned him to spend the next year of his life health him prison bars.

With tears in his eyes and in a voice trembling with emotion, Judge McCormick expressed his sorrow, but declated that he must do his duty as he saw it. As he watched the shrinking figure on the table he said that men who had been his lifelong friends had testified on behalf of Dr. Jones, but he felt that he would be faise to his outh if he did otherwise than sentence the detailant to prison. He then prenounced sentence of one year in San Quentin.

Hardly able to walk, Dr. Jones was assisted to his feel and half carried from the court room. The men whose hands closed the doors of the county juil behind the prisoner were also moved to tears, and ac the last door clanged behind him Jones again broke down and west.

Dr. Jones pleaded guilty to a charge of bribing former Policeman I disorderly house on North Central avenue. He made application for protestion. Up to a few minutes before sentence was pronounced Jones and his friends were convinced that fore sentence was pronounced Jones and his friends were convinced that the court would grant probation, hume, a postee officer, pleaded guilty to accepting bribos and was granted probation by the same judge. An Jones had aided the district attorney's office in the investigation and had previously borne a good reputation his friends believed that probation was certain. The court's decision came as a distinct surprise.

Judge McCormick granted a tendary stay of execution of the sentence.
